

David Curry, Stephen Byers, Geoff Hoon and Patricia Hewitt

David Curry stood down as chairman of the Commons standards committee (yes you read that correctly) after The Daily Telegraph disclosed that he had stopped staying at the property on the orders of his wife. This piece of filth continued claiming £38,000 for the property between July 2005 and March 2009. His former committee has now ordered him to repay only £28,000 and apologise to the House for his "serious" breach of the rules (crime is now only seen as a breach of the rules if your MP). Can you believe such muck, he's a fraudster so why is this liar being rewarded to the tune of £10,000 pounds. Why? Shouldn't he also be charged as fraudster? Does this cur have his accounts frozen? loose his licence? go to jail? Does he even go to court? Why not? Is it another case of rules for some and different rules for others! How much longer do we have to endure this total and utter corruption? Stephen Byers, the Westminster scoundral can be bought for 3 to 5 thousand pounds a day! Can you trust MP tarts who can be bought for cash, to run YOUR country? As our nation fights on two war front's as our son's have their arms and legs blow off, many blinded for life, the greedy MP'S continue to fill their pockets before the gravy train pulls into the election station. Gordon doesn't think we need a major enquiry, FUNNY THAT, Most people I talk to think we need a firing squad. How should they be treated, were they completely within the rules! Is it just me or would tar and feathers be going to far? Will you vote this trash back into office? Will you let this filth sell your policies to the highest bidder? Are you too lazy or too disgusted to care? Will you sit home and ignore the next election? Or will you get out their and ensure this scum are removed from government?
